

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

VOL. XXX.

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, OCTOBER 6, 1908.

No. 120.

A BIG CROWD HEARD WILSON

Pledges His Continued Efforts to Uphold Law and Order.

CLOSEST ATTENTION

Concluded His Address With Speech for Republican Party.

Gov. Augustus E. Willson spoke at the Tabernacle yesterday afternoon to an immense crowd.

He was met at the depot at 10:40 by a committee of Republicans headed by Judge A. H. Anderson and escorted to Hotel Latham.

Lebkuecher's Band played "My Old Kentucky Home" and probably 1,000 people were at the depot and a cordial greeting was given the Governor.

The speaking began at the Tabernacle shortly after one o'clock.

The big Tabernacle was filled to overflowing when John Feland arose to introduce the Governor. Commenting on the presence of a delegation from Clarksville, he said Western Kentucky and Tennessee proposed to join hands to uphold the law. He briefly presented the Governor, who was given a warm reception.

Gov. Willson said he felt that this great meeting showed to all the world what Kentucky stands for.

He said he came as a speaker for the Republican ticket, but as Governor he came as the representative of all the people. He complimented the "Tennessee neighbors" and said although they were all Democrats he understood every one of them would like for Kentucky's Republican Governor to come over into their state and run for Governor. He said many Democrats voted for him and he was trying to show his appreciation by being the Governor of all the people.

He discussed the duty of citizens and officers to uphold the law in order to secure liberty.

He said his administration was ushered in with the raid on Hopkinsville. And he at once set about to redeem his promise that he would, if elected, uphold the laws. He said, "I have done all in my power to protect life and liberty and my best efforts have been given to protect the farmers. I believe that nine out of ten of the people of Kentucky are for law and order."

When the appeal came to me from Hopkinsville I called out part of the State guards, brave soldiers, every one of them a Kentucky boy and a gentleman as well as a soldier. They have endured hardships without complaint and they are the hope of the people for protection. The law and 2,000,000 people are behind it.

(Continued on Fifth Page.)

K. P. CARNIVAL OPENED YESTERDAY

Great Cosmopolitan Shows With Full Line of Attractions.

The carnival opened last night and the Uniform Rank, K. of P., will have the closing attraction of the season at Mercer Park.

The Cosmopolitan Shows will please everybody. Charlie Evans, a popular carnival man, formerly with Buffalo Bill, is the press agent.

Everything made a good start and the weather is perfect.

Mules For Sale!

Have 20 mules, four to six years old. These mules were bought out of harness and ready for work.

M. A. MASON, Hopkinsville, Ky. Comb. Phone 264-2.

A. S. OF E. HOLDS ELECTION

Officers Chosen Saturday to Serve During the Ensuing Year.

HELSELY PRESIDENT.

Satisfactory Arrangements Made For Financing This Year's Crop.

The Society of Equity held an enthusiastic meeting at Bald Knob Saturday and elected officers for the ensuing year, as follows: President, H. C. Helsley; vice president, J. T. Lile; secretary, Foster B. McCown; county organizer, John Jackson.

Esq. Helsley was chosen as representative to the meeting of the Union Tobacco Society in Louisville; 1st alternate, John M. Rice; 2nd alternate, O. M. Wilson.

J. M. Carley, J. A. Utley, Jesse Bass and J. T. Lile were elected graders.

Salesman H. H. Abernathy reported only a few hogheads of the old crop on hand for sale, and that he had made satisfactory arrangements for financing the 1908 crop.

STRANGE CASE

Three Children Born to Omaha Couple In Six Months.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 5.—Two births in six months! That is the remarkable record of one Omaha family. A boy baby, now a little over six months, and girl twins just a few days in the world.

These interesting events of half a year, occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Edwards, 1823 North 24th street. Both parents are young people, Mrs. Edwards being only about eighteen years old.

The boy, a fat, bouncing baby, who is growing rapidly, was born on March 12 last. The girl twins came on September 16. The new babies each weighed five pounds. They were bright and healthy from the start, and are progressing as well as the average newly born.

Mr. Edwards, who is a native of Omaha, recovered rapidly from the second trying experience.

The physicians of Omaha are very much interested in the remarkable case, and it is expected that official data will be made out by the attending physician for the benefit of science. The doctors say that while similar cases have occurred before, they are exceedingly rare.

STROKE FATAL

Mr. W. B. Brewer, Of Fairview, Died Yesterday.

Editor W. B. Brewer, of Fairview, died yesterday from a stroke of paralysis, received about two weeks ago. He was about 60 years of age.

JUDGE MORRIS

Booked to Speak Here Wednesday, Oct. 14.

Among the speaking appointments announced by the Democratic Campaign Committee is one for this city on Wednesday, Oct. 14, at 1 o'clock p. m. by Judge Jas. S. Morris. Judge Morris is a Democratic leader of Central Kentucky, who is making a series of speeches for Bryan and Kern. His other appointments are: Hartford, Monday, Oct. 12, 1 p. m.; Greenville, Tuesday, Oct. 13, 1 p. m.; Central City, Tuesday, Oct. 13, 7:30 p. m.; Morganfield, Thursday, Oct. 15, 1 p. m.; Sturgis, Thursday, Oct. 15, 7:30 p. m.; Dixon, Friday, Oct. 16, 1 p. m.

Belmont, Saturday, Oct. 17, 1 p. m.

DR. JENKENS WILL LEAVE

Has Accepted a Call to Pastorate of Church at Athens, Ga.

WILL NOT GO AT ONCE.

Will Complete the Plans for the Annual Bible Conference.

Rev. Millard A. Jenkins, D. D., pastor of the Baptist church, announced at the close of his sermon Sunday morning that he had decided to accept the call from the church at Athens, Ga. He stated that he had made it the subject of prayerful consideration and he felt it to be his duty to go to the church at Athens, though he could not understand why it seemed to be the Lord's will that he should go, as there was a great work for him here and he had hoped to see the membership of the church increased from 800 to 1800 under his ministry. He spoke but a few moments when he was overcome with emotion and many members of the church mingled their tears with his. Dr. Jenkins came here from Dublin, Ga., Nov. 15, 1906, and during the time that he has been here about 325 new members have been received. The church two weeks ago by a unanimous rising vote begged him to remain and his going will cause profound sorrow.

Under his ministry the church has been united and harmonious and has prospered as it never did before.

Dr. Jenkins said he would not go to Athens until the church here was supplied with another pastor and it is not unlikely that he will remain here until the end of the present year. The tent meeting on the West Side did not close Friday night, as expected, but continued over Sunday, several other additions being reported from the last meetings. The total number of accessions was 31.

The Bible Conference will begin Oct. 16 and continue for ten days.

The four themes to be given special attention will be The Holy Spirit, The Surrendered Life, The Second Coming of Christ, and World-wide Missions.

Sunday, Oct. 18 will be a special Baraca-Philathea convention rally, with Dr. Joseph Broughton the speaker. At all of the services Prof. Altha Ira Ruby, who was here last year, will conduct the music.

Speakers announced for the Conference are: Rev. R. V. Miller, Rev. J. C. Massee, D. D.; Rev. W. A. Nelson, D. D.; Rev. Julian S. Rogers, Rev. D. D. Gray, D. D.; Dr. Jos. Broughton, Rev. Wm. H. Smith, D. D.; Rev. J. C. Owen, Rev. W. D. Powell, D. D.

Fix Your Clock.

It is unfortunate that your watches and clocks get out of fix, but so it is, has been, and ever will be. We will repair them for you, and guarantee satisfaction.

FORBES MANUFACTURING CO.

FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

Gardner and Hunt Convicted on Testimony of Night Riders.

COMPROMISE VERDICT.

The Case Will Go to Higher Court for a General Review.

Clarksville, Tenn., Oct. 5.—Walter Hunt and John Gardner, charged with the murder of Vaughn Bennett, an alleged night rider, were Saturday found guilty of murder in the second degree and their punishment fixed at ten years in the penitentiary. The verdict is believed to be a compromise.

A motion was immediately afterward made by lawyers of the defense for a new trial and arguments thereon will be heard this week. It is understood that if a new trial is denied an appeal will be taken to the State Supreme Court.

The defendants will be allowed their liberty with the same bond which they have been under since their surrender at Nashville.

The last day of this celebrated trial was attended with the same interest which marked each day of its lengthy course, the court room being well filled with spectators and the corridors crowded.

An appeal will get all of the night rider testimony excluded by Judge Tyler before the higher court.

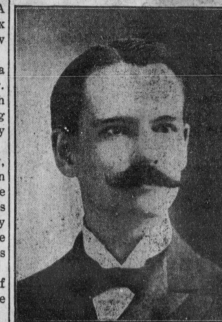

The conviction of the posmen has greatly encouraged the night riders of the tobacco district.

FLEET AT MANILA

Will Start Home Dec. 1 and Winter On the Mediterranean.

The American fleet is now at Manila where it arrived last Friday.

The itinerary of the return home from Manila of the fleet was announced at the Navy Department Saturday. The fleet will leave Manila on Dec. 1, arrive at Colombo Dec. 14, stay there six days and then depart for Suez, which it is scheduled to reach on Jan. 5. The ships will pass through the canal and coal at Port Said as expeditiously as possible. They are to spend the month of January and a few days early in February in the Mediterranean, two or three vessels going each to Ville Franche, Marseilles, Genoa, Leghorn, Malta, Algiers, Athens, Naples, Negro Bay, Morocco and Gibraltar, the whole fleet leaving the latter place Feb. 6, being scheduled to arrive in the United States on Feb. 22.

REV. MILLARD A. JENKENS

Dr. Jenkins said he would not go to Athens until the church here was supplied with another pastor and it is not unlikely that he will remain here until the end of the present year. The tent meeting on the West Side did not close Friday night, as expected, but continued over Sunday, several other additions being reported from the last meetings. The total number of accessions was 31.

The Bible Conference will begin Oct. 16 and continue for ten days.

The four themes to be given special attention will be The Holy Spirit, The Surrendered Life, The Second Coming of Christ, and World-wide Missions.

Sunday, Oct. 18 will be a special Baraca-Philathea convention rally, with Dr. Joseph Broughton the speaker. At all of the services Prof. Altha Ira Ruby, who was here last year, will conduct the music.

Speakers announced for the Conference are: Rev. R. V. Miller, Rev. J. C. Massee, D. D.; Rev. W. A. Nelson, D. D.; Rev. Julian S. Rogers, Rev. D. D. Gray, D. D.; Dr. Jos. Broughton, Rev. Wm. H. Smith, D. D.; Rev. J. C. Owen, Rev. W. D. Powell, D. D.

Fix Your Clock.

It is unfortunate that your watches and clocks get out of fix, but so it is, has been, and ever will be. We will repair them for you, and guarantee satisfaction.

FORBES MANUFACTURING CO.

W. T. COOPER & CO.

Wholesale and Retail Grocers.

The Place to Buy

...Fall and Winter...

Silk Dress Goods,
Dress Trimmings,
Fancy Dry Goods,
Men, Women, Staple Goods,
Children's Underwear,
Rugs, Linoleums, Mattings, Oil Cloths.

Large and well assorted stock; always the best at lowest prices.

T. M. JONES,

Main Street.

Hopkinsville, Ky.

BANK OF HOPKINSVILLE

CAPITAL . . . $100,000.00.

SURPLUS . . . 35,000.00.

With the largest combined capital and surplus of any bank in Christian county, supplied with modern burglar proof safe and vault, we are prepared to offer our depositors every protection for their money.

3 per cent Interest on Time Certificates of Deposit.

HENRY C. CANT, President.

J. E. McPHERSON, Cashier.

H. L. McPHERSON, Assistant Cashier.

E. B. LONG, President. W. T. TANDY, Cashier.

CITY BANK

Capital, $60,000.00

Surplus, $70,000.00

This Bank ranks among the first in the state of Kentucky in proportion of surplus to capital.

In Surplus there is Strength.

We invite your account as a safe depository for your funds. Deposit your valuable papers in our vault—safe from fire and burglars.

3 PER CENT. INTEREST ON TIME DEPOSITS

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

HOPKINSVILLE

KENTUCKY.

UNITED STATES DEPOSITORY.

Only National Bank in This Community

Capital . . . $75,000.00

Surplus . . . 25,000.00

Stockholders' Liability . . . 75,000.00

HAS A REGULAR SAVINGS DEPARTMENT

Three Per Cent Interest Paid on Savings and Time Deposits

J. F. GARRETT, Pres.

T. J. MORTYFOLDS, V. P.

JNO. B. TRICE, Cashier.

F. W. DABNEY, V. P.

PLANTERS BANK & TRUST CO.

CAPITAL . . . $100,000.00.

SURPLUS AND PROFITS $15,000.00.

Thoroughly equipped for Banking and Trustee Business.

Open an account and let us show you.

Loans and Investments made.

Acts as Adm'r, Exr. Trustee, Guardian, Agent, Receiver, etc.

Buys and sells Real Estate, and Manages Property.

Safe Fire and Burglar proof vaults.

3 Per Cent. Interest on Time Certificates.

SELF EVIDENT.

What the Man Wanted When He Got In the Barber's Chair.

The baldheaded man with four days' growth of beard on his chin entered the barber's shop and sat down in one of the operating chairs.

"Shave, sir?"

"No," growled the man in the chair. "I want to be measured for a suit of clothes."

"This isn't a tailor shop, sir."

"What is it?"

"It's a barber shop."

"What work do you do in this shop?"

"Shave men and cut their hair, sir."

"Do you think a man with no hair on his head would come here to have his hair cut?"

"No, sir."

"Then, presuming me to be a sane man, but baldheaded, what would you naturally suppose I came for?"

"For a shave."

"Then why did you ask me if I wanted a shave when I took a seat in your chair? Why didn't you go to work at once?"

"If some of your barbers would cultivate a habit of inferring from easily ascertained data, instead of developing such wonderful conversational powers, it would be of material aid in advancing you in your chosen vocation and of expanding your profits. Do you comprehend?"

"Yes, sir," replied the man, as he began to lather the customer's face in a dazed sort of way. And he never even asked him if he wanted beer while he was being shaved.

When the operation was performed.

Then They Go One Place or Another, as Fancy Dictates.

Epics accustoming to the policy of each fashionable place and readily tell just why they go to one place or avoid another. They have their likes and dislikes, and as the single portions of the waiters, the music, the ventilation and a hundred and one other things a casual visitor would fail to appreciate.

For instance, at one restaurant only single portions are served for one person. At another, where the cooking is equally good, half portions, nearly or quite as large as the single portions of other places, are served for one person.

There was a little dispute at a well known hotel over a mistake in an order of trout which had made a difference of several dollars on a check for a rather simple dinner for two. It was settled "out of court," as it were, and quite agreeably, but hotel managers regret and try to avoid these mistakes, especially when the customer is a regular visitor, for they know he never forgets the details of his eating and is slow to forgive an error.

Another peculiarity of diners is as to the location of tables. Some persons cling to one table and feel aggrieved when they find another table is favored by the waiter. Restaurant proprietors have tried to understand this peculiarity of their patrons, but have to admit they fail to explain it.—St. Louis Republic.

Why Naval Uniforms Are Blue.

Naval uniforms all the world over pretty well are navy blue. The British fashion in this matter has been the rule with maritime people in general.

That blue was ever selected for the king's naval service was a fortuitous happening. When in 1747 the question of uniform was being considered the color selected had very like to have been French gray laced with silver.

While the king was still not quite decided he saw the Duchess of Bedford in a riding habit of blue faced with white and enlivened with gold lace. It was a revelation. Here, the king declared, was the uniform for his sea service officers, and no more was heard of French gray. The navy took to blue, and every other navy has taken to it since.—Pall Mall Gazette.

A Reasonable Translation.

The teacher was telling the class in fourth grade geography about the great seas of the different states, using the pictures in the dictionary as the basis of the lesson. Pointing to the seal of Virginia, she asked:

"Now, who can tell me from this picture what should be the meaning of these Latin words: 'Sic semper tyrannis?'"

Bobby's hand went up.

"All right, Bobby, you may tell us."

"Take your foot off my neck," was Bobby's reply.—Judge.

Ti For Tat.

The Japanese do not like to be called Japs. A noted diplomat was traveling from Tokyo to Yokohama when an American in the car leaned across and said, "Say, what 'ese are you, Chinese or Japanese?"

Quick as a flash came in excellent English, "May I inquire what 'key' are you, Yankee or monkey?"—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Eastern Question.

"Paw, have you ever been east?"

"Yes, I spent a year in New York city when I was considerably younger than I am now."

"Well, what is the eastern question?"

"The only one I ever heard was, 'How much is he worth?'"—Chicago Tribune.

Human Nature.

Take the case of the fellow in the next block. You have always considered him a miser.

He has considered you a glibber, and then each of you discovers the other to be a pretty good sort.—St. Paul Pioneer-Press.

There are enough serious things in the world without making things worse.

WOMAN'S WIT UNCERTAIN.

As When This Wife Failed to Appreciate Hubby's Pleasantry.

"Don't always rely upon the ready wit of a woman," said the man who is sometimes pleased to consider himself an oracle. "That ready wit business is sometimes prone to get away off."

"For example, my wife and children had been staying in the country for several weeks, and I was regular with my letters, as every loving husband should be. Finally on the day before my wife was to start for home I concluded my letter to her with these words:

"This will be the last letter I will write to you for a long, long time."

"When I got down to my office the next morning I found a telegram from my wife waiting for me."

"What do you mean?" read the dispatch.

"Later a registered letter came from her. She had blotted almost every line with tears. What it was all about I could not imagine."

"Then my telephone bell rang, and when I answered I heard my wife's voice speaking over the long distance phone."

"Oh, John," said she. "Is that really you? I thought you had committed suicide!"—Washington Post.

No Moral in This Story.

In June, 1898, a poor man called at the humble dwelling of a washerwoman on the West side. He said he was starving, and she gave him half a dollar. Nothing was heard of him until one day last week, when he called again and got another half dollar.—Smart Set.

If you haven't time to exercise regularly, Don's Regulets will prevent constipation. They induce a mild, easy, healthful action of the bowels without griping. Ask your druggist for them. 25c.

Wise Rats.

The depredation of rats in his chicken yard caused Harry A. Lehr of York, Pa., to spread rat poison beneath the floor of his chicken coop. Instead of eating the poison the rats removed it to different parts of the yard. The next morning it was eaten by the fowls, as a result of which Mr. Lehr's flock of chickens is largely decreased.

Rings Little Liver Pills for biliousness, sick headache, muddy complexion. They tone the liver; do not gripe. They keep you well. 25c. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

Stops carache in two minutes; toothache or pain of burn or scald in five minutes; hoarseness, one hour; muscleache, two hours; sore throat, twelve hours—Dr. Thomas Electric Oil, monarch over pain.

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

For Ladies' Wine of Cardui

For all your womanly ills. It can never do harm, and is certain to do good.

Mrs. Sallie H. Blair, of Johnson City, Tenn., writes: "I had suffered from womanly troubles for sixteen months, and had four doctors, but they could not help me, until I began to take Wine of Cardui. Now I think I am about well."

At all reliable druggists, in $1.00 bottles. Try it.

WRITE US A LETTER

Write today for a free copy of valuable 64-page illustrated book for women. If you need Medical Advice, describe your symptoms, stating age, and reply will be sent in plain English.

Address: Ladies' Wine of Cardui, The Cardui Medicine Co., Chicago, Ill.

East and West.

There is no longer any doubt, our Shanghai correspondent tells us, that the old dream of China, which has guided the lives of countless millions in the Chinese empire through a long succession of centuries is passing away. The movement in favor of western education has become irresistible.—London Times.

Most disgusting skin eruptions, scrofula, pimples, rashes, etc., are due to impure blood. Burdock Blood is a cleansing blood tonic. Makes you clear-eyed, clear-brained, clear-skinned.

Slug Soup for England.

Among the tinned goods with which Queensland, Australia, proposes to supply England is beche-de-mer soup. It is made from a black slug found in countless numbers on the coral reefs of North Queensland. The slug is smoke dried, and its chief market in China, where beche-de-mer is worth $1,000 a ton. It is a rich and nourishing food.

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of

CASTORIA.

Great suffering is the lot of all women, who neglect the health of their womanly organs. No reason to do so, any more than to neglect a sore throat, colic, or any other disease, that the right kind of medicine will cure. Take for all your womanly ills. It can never do harm, and is certain to do good.

Wine of Cardui

Mrs. Sallie H. Blair, of Johnson City, Tenn., writes: "I had suffered from womanly troubles for sixteen months, and had four doctors, but they could not help me, until I began to take Wine of Cardui. Now I think I am about well."

At all reliable druggists, in $1.00 bottles. Try it.

WRITE US A LETTER

Write today for a free copy of valuable 64-page illustrated book for women. If you need Medical Advice, describe your symptoms, stating age, and reply will be sent in plain English.

Address: Ladies' Wine of Cardui, The Cardui Medicine Co., Chicago, Ill.

Idaho Actor's Wardrobe.

Tommy Post, one of the many stage folk living at the house on Grove street burned recently, was the heaviest loser of the actors stopping there. He lost a nightgown and a red bandana handkerchief, and the leg of one of his trousers was water-soaked. He will take immediate steps to replenish his wardrobe.—Idaho Statesman.

His Excuse.

Little Bobbie is a faithful attendant in the "baby class" at Sunday school. One day, when the teacher called upon him to recite the Lord's Prayer, he started bravely, floundered, started again, and finally gave up, saying: "Teacher, I can't say it, I'm so out of practice."

Organize Politeness League.

"I promise always to be polite to everybody, particularly strangers and persons I know," is the pledge taken by members of the Politeness League, which is being organized among New York schoolgirls. The "quirk" in the sentence is relied upon to fix it in the memory.

Tin in Star's Atmosphere.

Observations of the spectrum of Alpha Scorpii, made at the Cape of Good Hope, have shown a puzzling line that an English astronomer has attributed to tin. If this proves to be correct, it is the first discovery of tin ever in the atmosphere of a star.

Where Cats Are Welcome.

The god Ptah is said to be worshipped with order in Boston, where the cat is as much a part of the household as any of the members. The Egyptians seemed to think the cat very important to happiness, and Boston can see no good in that class of society that is talking about the cat as a breed of disease and a destroyer of things and not to be tolerated.

Bees Laxative Cough Syrup always brings quick relief to coughs, colds, hoarseness, whooping cough and all bronchial and throat trouble. Mothers especially recommend it for children, as it is pleasant to take. It is gently laxative. Should be in every home. Guaranteed. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

Needed an Hourglass.

A clergyman made an unusually long call at the home of a parishioner recently. He talked and talked, until finally little Edna, who was present, whispered: "Mamma, did the preacher forget to bring his 'amen' with him?"

New Stock Issue.

Books for subscription to stock in the 54th series of the Hopkinsville Building and Loan Association will be open Oct. 1st. A limited number of shares will be sold at office of the Treasurer at First National Bank.

THOS. W. LONG, Treas.

Smallest Mammal.

The smallest of all mammals are the shrew—nocturnal, mouse-like creatures, that hunt for worms and insects in woods and meadows. An eggshell would make a comfortable barn for a mother and her little ones.

Daily Evening Post

AND

Tri-Weekly Kentuckian

FROM NOW UNTIL

Who's Who In the Story.

"SATAN" SANDERSON, the hero, dare-devil, quixotic friend and minister of the Gospel.

HUGH STIRES, prodigal and criminal.

JESSICA HOLME, the beautiful heroine, witness in the rush and events and the principal sufferer in a case of mixed identity.

MRS. HALLORAN, the camp orator.

DAVID STIRES, stern, yet forgiving, and at the last made happy by another's unapologies.

THE BISHOP, the victim of a misunderstanding.

HAILELUJAH JONES, the religious fanatic on whose shoulders rests the whole weight of the story.

EMMETT PRENDERGAST, the false friend, perjurer and thief.

THE SHERIFF, who is very much divided between duty and inclination.

"BIG" DEVLIN, who turns champion instead of prosecutor after the hero's race with death.

[CONTINUED.]

"TWO CUES AT THE BAR ARE ENOUGH AT A NIGHT'S NOTICE."

Then the lawyer saw an extraordinary thing. The emptied glass rang sharply on the bar, the arm that held it straightened, the little form behind it seemed to expand, and the big bulk of a Devlin went backward through the doorway and collapsed in a sprawling heap on the pavement.

"For my part," said an even, inflexible voice from the threshold, "I prefer but one."

The face the roomful saw now as they pushed to the door was a face which turned on the flocking crowd before anything but the slinking look which had been used to see on the face of Hugh Stires. The smile that mounted his cheeks played over it. There were both calculation and savagery in it. It was the look of the man to whom all risks are alike, to whom nothing counts. In the instant confusion every one there recognized the element of hardihood unfounded. Here was one who, as Barney McGinn, the freighter, said afterward, "hadn't the end of a sick cargo," bearing a bully and the most formidable antagonist the town afforded.

The prostrate man was on his feet in an instant, wiping the blood from a cleft lip, and peeled off his vest with a vile epithet.

"That is incidentally a venturesome word to select from your vocabulary."

List your real estate for sale with J. F. ELLIS.

Remedy For Choking.

"Raising the left arm as high as you can will relieve choking much more rapidly than the act of thumping one's back," said a physician, "and it is well that every one should know it, for often a person gets choked while eating where there is no one near to thump him. Very frequently at meals and when they are at play children get choked while eating, and the customary manner of relieving them is to slap them sharply on the back. The effect of this is to set the obstruction free. The same thing can be brought about by raising the left hand of the child as high as possible; the relief comes much more quickly. In happenings of this kind there should be no alarm, for if the child sees that older persons or parents get excited the effect is bad. The best thing is to tell the child to raise his left arm, and immediately the difficulty passes away."

The Popping Stone.

"The popping stone" marks the spot where Sir Walter Scott asked Miss Carpenter to marry him. It is situated in the beautiful valley of the Irithun, at Gilsland, an inland watering place near Carlisle. The popping stone is believed by many to be the stone which caused the death of the famous summer mouths, and it is said many a laggard lover has had his courage screwed up to popping point at this romantic spot. In the immediate neighborhood may also be seen "Mungie's Ha," which Scott immortalized in "Guy Mannering" while a little farther off the Roman wall and Lancaster priory provide attractions to visitors to Gilsland—London Chronicle.

Hardships of the Very Poor.

Little Martin, having a few real playmates, has supplied himself with several imaginary ones, with whom she has many surprising experiences. Her mother recently overheard her playing with her large family of dolls and contenting a visionary caller.

"Yes, Mrs. Smith," she said, heaving a deep sigh, "we are poor, terribly poor. We are so poor I have to thank my babies to keep them warm."

—Woman's Home Companion.

The south sea Islanders believe that the animal which tempted Eve in the Garden of Eden was an owl, while in Starting in a kind of strained and horrified expectancy.

said the even voice, a sort of detonation in it. "You will feel like apologizing presently."

Devlin came on with a bull-like rush. The lawyer's eye, slowly gazing the situation, gave the slightest man short shrift, and for several intense seconds every breath stopped. Those seconds called up from some mysterious corner all the skill and strength of the old hand hitting Satan Sanderson, all the science of parry and feint learned in those bluff college bouts with the gloves with Gentlemen Jim.

It was a short, sharp contest. Not a blow broke the guard of the man whose back was to the doorway. On the other hand, Devlin's face was purpled and bleeding. When for a breath he drew back, gulping, a sudden glint of doubt and fear had slipped beneath the blood and sweat.

The end came quickly. Harry stepped to meet him, there was a series of swift passes—then one, two lightning-like blows, and Devlin went down white and stunned in the dust of the roadway.

So high was the tension and so instantaneous the close that for a moment the crowd was motionless, the spell still upon them. In that moment Tom Feltner came in his forward, for, though sharing the general dislike, admiration was strong in him, and, knowing the temper of the bystanders, he expected trouble.

The man who had administered Devlin's punishment, however, did not see his approach. He was looking somewhere above their heads—at the upper balcony of the hotel—opposite—standing in a kind of strained and horrified expectancy at a girl who leaned forward, her hands clinching the balustrade, her eyes fixed on his face. There was something in that face, in that intense gaze, that seemed to cleave the gray veil that swathed Harry Sanderson's past.

Only an instant the gaze hung between them. It served as a distraction, for other eyes had raced to the balcony.

The clamoring voices were suddenly hushed, for there was not wanting in the crowd that instinctive regard for the proprieties which belongs to communities where gentlemen are few. In that instant Feltner put his hand on the arm of the starting man and drew him to the door of the hotel.

"Inside, quickly!" he said under his breath, for a rumble from the crowd told him the girl had left the balcony above. He pushed the other through the doorway and turned for a second on the threshold.

"Whatever private feelings you may have," he said in a tone that all heard, "don't disgrace the town. Fair play, no matter who he is! McGinn, I should think you, at least, were big enough to settle your grudges without the help of a crowd."

Chapter 13

HE MAN whose past the crowd's eyes had taken had yielded to his touch almost dazedly as the girl disappeared.

"That was a close squeak," said Feltner to him. "Do you realize that? In five minutes more you'd have been handled a sight worse than you handled your man, let me tell you!"

"The man of no memories smiled, the same smile that had infuriated the bar-room—and yet somehow it was more difficult to smile now."

"Is it possible," he asked, "that through an unlucky error I have troubled the local archbishop?"

Feltner looked at him narrowly. Beneath the sarcasm he distinguished unfamiliarity, aloofness, a genuine astonishment. The appearance in the person of Hugh Stires of the qualities of nerve and courage had surprised him out of his usual indifference. The "fisher-gambler" had fought like a man. His present sang froid was as singular. Had he been an absolute stranger in the town he might have asked, "What is spoken so differently. Feltner's smooth, honest, earnest face was puzzled as he answered truthfully:

"You've troubled a man who will remember it a long time."

"Ah," said the man addressed easily. "He has a better memory than I, I mean."

He gazed over the heads of the silent roomful to the shimmering street, where Devlin, with the aid of a supporting arm, was staggering into the saloon, even his humiliation had begun.

"They seem agitated," he said. The feeling of embarrassment was passing; the old devil was lifting. His glance, scanning the room, set itself on a shabby, clear figure in the background apologetic, yet keenly and proudly interested.

A whistling light was in his eye. He crossed to him and, reaching out his hand, drew the violin from under his arm.

"Music has charms to soothe the 'savage breast,'" he said, and, opening the door, he tucked the instrument under his chin and began to play.

What absolute contempt of danger, what instant prompting possessed, can scarcely be imagined. Feltner looked for a quick end to the folly, but he saw the men in the street even as he moved forward waver and pause.

With almost the first note it had come to them that they were hearing music as the squeaking fiddles of the opposite pavement crossed over, and men far down the street stood still to listen.

More than the adept's cunning that had at first tingled in his fingers at sight of the instrument was in Harry Sanderson's playing. The violin had been the single passion which the old Satan Sanderson had carried with him into the new career. The impulse to "soothe the savage breast" had been a flare of the old character he had been relieving, but the music, begun in bravado, swept him almost instantly beyond its bounds. He had never been an indifferent performer. Now he was playing as he had never played in his life, with inspiration and abandon.

There was a diabolism in it. He had forgotten the fight, the crowd, his own mocking mood. He had forgotten where he was. He was adroit on a fleeting tide of melody that was carrying him back, back, into the far-away past toward all that he had loved and lost.

"It's 'Home, Sweet Home,'" said Barney McGinn. "No, it's 'Anne Laurie.'" No, it's—hanged if I know what it is!"

The player himself could not have told him. He was a kind of trance dream. The self-made music was calling with a sweet insistence to buried things that were stirring from a long sleep. It sent a shiver into the throat of more than one standing motionless in the street. It brought a suspicious moisture to Tom Feltner's eyes. It drew Mrs. Halloran from the kitchen, wiping her hands on her apron. It called to a girl who crouched in the upper hall with her miserable face buried in her hands, drew her down the stairs to the door, her eyes wide with a breathless wonder, her face glistening with feeling.

From the balcony Jessica had witness—something. A fascination she could not gully; had glided her eyes to the struggle. It was he—it was the face she knew, seen but once for a single moment in the hour of her marriage, but stamped indelibly upon her memory. It was no longer smooth and peaceful as he might be—the chief actor, as it seemed to her, in a cheap and desperate bedroom affair, a coarse affair of tics and the public street—yet there was something intrepid in his bearing, something splendid in his victory.

To Jessica, standing with hands close clasped, the music seemed the agony of remorse for a past fall, the cry of a forlorn soul, knowing itself cast out, appealing to its good angel for aid and pardon. Hugh had often played to her, lightly, carelessly, as he did all things. She had deemed it only one of his many clever, amateurish accomplishments. Now it struck her with a pang that there had been in him a deeper side that she had not guessed.

Since her wedding day she had thought of her marriage as a loathed bond, from which his false pretense had absolved her. Now a doubt of her own position assailed her. Had loneliness and outlawry driven him into the career that had made him shunned even in this rough town, a course which she, had she been faithful to her vow "for better, for worse," might have turned to his redemption? God forgive her, but she had not forgiven. Smarting tears scorched her eyelids.

For Harry Sanderson the music was the imprisoned memory, crying out strongly in the first tongue it had found. The slumbering qualities that had stirred uneasily at sight of the face on the balcony awoke. Who he was and had been he knew no more than before, but the new writing of self-consciousness, starting from its sleep with almost a sense of shock, became conscious of the gaping crowd, the dusty street, the red sunset and of himself at the end of a vulgar brawl, saving a violin in silk braggadocio in a hotel doorway.

The music faltered and broke off. The bow dropped at his feet. He picked it up unthinkingly and turned back into the office as a man entered from a rear door. The newcomer was Michael Halloran, the hotel's proprietor, short, thickset and surly. Asleep in his room, he had neither seen the fracas nor heard the playing. He saw instantly, however, that something unusual was forward and, blinking on the threshold, caught sight of the man who was handling the violin back to its owner. He clinched his fist, with a scowl, and started toward him.

"His wife caught his arm."

"Oh, Michael, Michael!" she cried. "Say nothing, lad! You should have heard him play!"

"Play!" he exclaimed. "Let him go fiddle to his side partner, Prendergast, and the other riffraff he's run with the year past!" He turned blackly to Harry. "Take yourself from this house, Hugh Stires!" he said. "Whether all's true that's said of you I don't say, but you'll not come here!"

Harry had turned very white. With the spoken name—a name how familiar!—his eyes had fallen to the ring on his finger—of ring with the initials H. S. A sudden comprehension had darted to his mind. A score of circumstances that had seemed odd stood out now in a beautiful light. The looks of dislike in the barroom, the attitude of the street, this angry distaste, all smacked of acquaintance, and not alone acquaintance, but obloquy. His name was Hugh Stires! He belonged to this very town! And he was a man hated, despised, forbidden entrance to an uncounted hostelry, an unwelcome visitant even in a barroom. He turned to Feltner and said in a low voice to him, not to the hotel keeper or to the roomful:

"When I entered this town today I did not know my name or that I had ever set foot in it before. I was struck by a train a month ago and remember nothing beyond that time. It seems that the town knows me better than I know myself."

He turned quietly and walked out of the door. Pavement and street were a hush of deathly talk. The group parted as he came out, and he passed between them with eyes straight before him.

As he turned down the street a fragment of quartz thrown with deliberate and venomous aim flew from the saloon doorway. It grazed his head, knocking off his hat.

Tom Feltner had seen the flying missile, and he leaped to the center of the street with rage in his heart. "If I find out who threw that," he said, "I'll send him up for it, so help me God!"

Harry stooped and picked up his hat and as he put it on again turned a moment toward the crowd. Then he walked on down the middle of the street, his eyes glaring, his face white, into the dusky blue of the falling twilight.

As he turned down the street a fragment of quartz thrown with deliberate and venomous aim flew from the saloon doorway. It grazed his head, knocking off his hat.

Tom Feltner had seen the flying missile, and he leaped to the center of the street with rage in his heart. "If I find out who threw that," he said, "I'll send him up for it, so help me God!"

Harry stooped and picked up his hat and as he put it on again turned a moment toward the crowd. Then he walked on down the middle of the street, his eyes glaring, his face white, into the dusky blue of the falling twilight.

(TO BE CONTINUED.)

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of J. C. F. Feltner

MACARONI IN ITALY.

To the Working People This Food is a Luxury.

Every one pictures the Italian as eating macaroni. What if I tell you that the Italians, taking them as a people, do not eat macaroni, and yet this is virtually true. Macaroni in Italy costs 4 to 8 cents a pound, and it is too costly for common use. It is about as accurate to say that the Italians live on macaroni as that the Americans live on turkey. Macaroni to the working Italian is a luxury. You often see young fellows on a holiday indulging in a dish in a restaurant or before a street cook stand about as Americans would eat ice cream. A customary workman's dinner is a hunk of bread broken apart and "buttered" with a few traces of tomato sauce. As for meat, it is the greatest rarity, and the only drink they can afford is water, which has the advantage of being cheap and filling. The Italians at home are not only temperate, but abstemious. Wine and beer and even tea, coffee and chocolate are forbidden them on account of the expense. In all Italy we saw no one under the influence of liquor. So also there is practically no smoking. The government has a monopoly of the tobacco business, buys its supplies in quantities direct in America and elsewhere and charges three prices for everything. The few tobacco shops keep a place of smoldering tins at the door, so that patrons and passers may light their cigars by it—Los Angeles Times.

Modern Men and Chams.

Many a hardheaded business man will stop to pick up a cast horseshoe or a "lucky" farthing, and is not a bit ashamed of the result. Of the tobacco business, with great satisfaction, comments the London Crown. It is a fact that civilization has not improved us much in the realm of quaint superstitions, charms and amulets are collectible and interesting curios.

The Smallest Possible.

Rodrick—If he is as many of yours, why do you contribute to his wooden wedding? Van Albert—Just to make him look small! Rodrick—"What did you say?" Van Albert—

WOMEN'S WOES.

Hopkinsville Women Are Finding Relief at Last.

It does seem that women have more than a fair share of the aches and pains that afflict humanity; they must "keep up," must attend to duties in spite of constantly aching backs, or headaches, dizzy spells, bearing down pains; they must stoop over, when to stoop means torture. They must walk and bend and work with racking pains and many aches from kidney ills. Kidneys cause more suffering than any other organ of the body. Keep the kidneys well and health is easily maintained. Read of a remedy for kidney ills only that helps and cures the kidneys and is endorsed by people from all over the United States.

Mrs. W. T. Wingard, living on Clarksville street, Elton, Ky., says: "I am very glad to state that Doan's Kidney Pills cured me of most annoying case of kidney trouble which had resisted doctors' treatment and every remedy that I had given a trial. My health and strength became greatly run down, I had little ambition to perform my household duties. Hearing of Doan's Kidney Pills I procured a box and the results of their use were all that I could wish for. Before I had finished the contents of the first box of the remedy, I noticed a decided change for the better in my condition and by the time I had finished the second box, I felt like a different woman. I do not hesitate to give Doan's Kidney Pills my endorsement."

Thirty more proof lies this from Hopkintonville people. Call at A. Johnson & Co.'s drug store and ask what their customers report. For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McBride Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and

WANTED!

All kinds country produce. Will exchange goods or pay cash. Highest market price.

W. P. QUALLES.

Successor to Buck Grocery Co., dealer in staple and fancy groceries, Avenue A, East (Sixth Street.)

FOR SAILOR BOYS 3 to 8 Years Old

A dainty, inexpensive suit for wear all your round, that has won instant popularity with parents and youngsters

Strongly made of extra quality material, color fast, and can be washed and worn again and again, giving the extra two years of service.

If you love your youngster make him happy, handsome and manly with one of these attractive garments

Only $2.50 Prepaid

THE BUNNY CO.

20 Lincoln St., Boston, Mass.

Remember the name—Doan's—and

Hats That Please the Eye

We are showing a complete line of the season's latest styles in

Trimmed Dress Hats

And...

Tailored Street Hats.

Come in, we are always pleased to show you our assortment.

PRICES MODERATE.

Miss Fannie B. Rogers, 210 South Main Street.

When You Visit Nashville STOP AT

THE NEW CENTRAL HOTEL

The most centrally located hotel in the city; on Sixth Ave., North, near corner of Church street. All cars from Union station pass within two doors of the house. Delightful Rooms, Splendid Table and all the comforts of home. No better place for shoppers. Fine double rooms for convention parties. Within 2 blocks of capitol.

RATES REASONABLE.

Special Rates to Parties of Four or More.

The Kentuckian.

Published Every Other Day, TUESDAY, THURSDAY and SATURDAY MORNINGS, BY

CHAS. M. MEACHAM.

Entered at the Hopkinsville Postoffice as Second Class Mail Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

One Year, $2.50
Six Months, $1.50
Three Months, $1.00
Single Copies, 10c

212 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

OCT. 6 1908.

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT
WILLIAM JENNINGS BRYAN, Of Nebraska.

FOR VICE PRESIDENT
JOHN WORTH KERN,
Of Indiana.

FOR CONGRESS
A. O. STANLEY, Of Henderson.

FOR COUNTY JUDGE
CHAS. W. MORRISON.

FOR SHERIFF
DAVID SMITH.

Registration Day Tuesday, Oct. 6, from 6 a. m., to 9 p. m.

The Weather.

FOR KENTUCKY—Probably showers Tuesday.

Postage on letters to Great Britain has been reduced from 5 cents to 2 cents per ounce.

Candidate Taft has lost his temper and is engaged in a hot controversy with Gumpers on the labor question and is losing votes every day.

Four new cases of cholera appeared at Manila Friday, one of them an American dentist, whose wife died of the disease two weeks ago.

There is some improvement in the cholera situation in St. Petersburg.
The death rate has been reduced to less than 100 a day and it is believed the worst is over.

Great floods have devastated some parts of India and the loss of life is estimated at 50,000. The city of Hyderabad is almost totally destroyed and funeral pyres are going day and night to burn the thousands of decomposing bodies dug from the wrecked buildings.

Kentucky yields the palm to Tennessee. Many night riders have escaped indictment in Kentucky and some guilty ones have been saved by petit juries, but no good citizen has yet been given a penitentiary sentence for killing a night rider engaged in a race. Kentucky is bad enough, but Tennessee is worse.

Prospects of Democratic victory are growing brighter every day.
Bryan needs 242 votes. The solid south with Missouri added gives 158. New York 39, Indiana 15 and Oklahoma 7 are almost sure, making 219. The other 23 votes will be forthcoming.

Nat Goodwin has secured a Nevada divorce from Maxine Elliott on a plea of desertion. He was stopping only temporarily in Reno and the judge granted the decree upon the ground that an actor's home could not be permanent anywhere and a legally established residence was not necessary.

Consternation has been caused among the Republican campaign managers by the Rock Island speech of Congressman Nicholas Longworth, in which he declared for eight years for Taft to be followed by eight more for Roosevelt. According to report for Washington the President was by no means pleased with his son-in-law's address committing him to third and fourth terms.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honest in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by him.

WALSH, KIRK & MARVIN,
Physicians, Druggists, Toledo, O.
Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 50c.

SEND IN YOUR FUNDS.

The Kentuckian has been designated as one of the depositories of contributions to the National Democratic Campaign Fund and subscriptions will be received and forwarded to Governor Haskell, the treasurer of the National Democratic Committee. A list of all subscribers and subscriptions will be kept and publication made.
In the event that contributors desire their names to be omitted they will kindly say so and their wishes will be respected. All contributions, irrespective of amount, will be welcomed, and letters containing subscriptions should be addressed to "The National Democratic Campaign Fund, care of Kentuckian, Hopkinsville, Ky."
Cash.....$1.00
Darwin Bell.....$1.00
Nat Gaither.....$1.00

The Rosebud Indian reservation at Dallas, S. D., was opened to settlers yesterday and a great rush was made for homesteads in the 833,000 acres. Applications will be filed until Oct. 17 and on Oct. 19 a drawing will be held to determine who may enter claims at $5 an acre. There will be 500 farms of 160 acres each.

The editor of this paper is in receipt of a letter from Mr. C. R.
Hancock, of the Pembroke Journal, apologizing for the libelous statement in his paper of Sept. 25, charging that Chas. M. Meacham, as mayor of Hopkinsville, had threatened an employee of the city with removal unless he joined the Law and Order League. Investigation convinced Mr. Hancock that the statement was untrue and he says he will let it appear that he is the one "whose memory was at fault." When called upon for his authority, Mr. Hancock gave a minister of the gospel who promptly corrected him, saying that what he had told Mr. Hancock was that it had been reported to him that the mayor had been heard to say that the time had come that no one could hold an office in Hopkinsville or Christian county who did not stand for law and order," a principle Mr. Hancock says he stands for himself.

The Frankfort News, a new afternoon paper, made its appearance last week, and the initial number was a big special issue of 32 pages.
We welcome it to our exchange list.

Judge Stout has made permanent his injunction against the filing of articles incorporating a colored B.
P. O. E. lodge in Kentucky.

Longworth's bad break was made in the Nick of time. It is the irony of fate that Teddy's family should furnish the Burchard of the campaign.

Fearful of Competition.

The water supplied by the municipal waterworks of Toronto, Canada, is not above suspicion. Up to a short time ago official analyses were made of the water and published so that the people might use their own discretion as to whether to drink it. The publication of analyses has been stopped by the authorities lest, according to the Toronto Star, the analyses should be used as a means of frightening people and possibly of inducing them to buy bottled drinking water from a private company. This action caused the Star to exclaim:

"This is paternalism gone mad. The people have a right to know the quality of the water they are drinking and with this knowledge in their possession to act upon their own judgment."
Comment cannot emphasize the force of these statements.—Public Service.

Spoken From Experience.

A private company can get better results than can be obtained out of a municipal plant. It is not bound down by any such restrictions as the eight hour law; the officials of the company see to it that there is no waste or loasing, because it is a commercial project there is more efficiency, and as a result any of the lighting companies of this city can sell us light cheaper than we can make it. There is proof in my own office here that it costs the city more to do its business than if it were a private concern. If the finance department was a commercial house, as it really ought to be, and was under the system which prevails in large financial houses the department would cost the city just about half what it costs
now.—Comptroller Metz of New York.

Cost Far Above Estimate.

If the advocates of municipal ownership are as far off in their promises of cheaper lights as they were in the estimation of the cost of the plant and the time of its installation, the people of Ligonier will pay dearly for their fun. We were told that $15,000 would pay the bills, but the lowest bid that is being considered by the council is within a few dollars of $25,000. We were promised that the plant would be put in at once. It is now seven months, and still nothing is being done, and the city is in darkness.—Editorial in Ligonier (Ind.) Banner.

An increase of 25 per cent in the rates has just been put into effect by

BEFORE AND AFTER.

Rosy Pictures of Profits Prove to Be a Pipe Dream.

Those who complain that the city already has debts enough should bear in mind that the water plant debt is not a debt, but an asset. At least that is what we were told a few years ago, when we were in the hysterical process of acquiring a worn-out plant, which today needs two or three hundred thousand dollars in the way of repairs and improvements.

But the people are finding out the difference now. They are paying just as much for water as they did under the old system, and at the same time they are being taxed to pay interest on the plant and for repairs. The city used to receive taxes on the plant.
Now it does not receive anything except free water for the city hall and a few other city institutions. There are also several thousand people who are helping to pay interest and repairs and purchase price on a plant from which they do not receive any benefit at all since the water is not brought to them.

They used to tell us in large letters that the plant was not only able to pay for itself out of its earnings, but the surplus could be used to build city halls and bridges and beautify the city until it should resemble a modern paradise.

All these dreams are now jokes. We are up against the real facts, and the management of the water plant has not been such as to make any of them realizations as yet, and there is no promise that they will be realized in the future. But these things should not discourage us. We should regard the water plant debt as an asset, not a debt. Let us stick to that and be as happy as we can.—Cedar Rapids (Ia.) Republican.

DECEITFUL APPEARANCES.

Municipal Mismanagement Masquerades as Municipal Munificence.

Speaking of robbery, there is a point of municipal ethics that has hitherto been ignored, but is now being given some attention in England and the United States. When the rates charged by municipal plants are too low to cover the cost of operation, maintenance and investment the deficiency must be made up by taxation, a part (and frequently a large part) of which falls on those who derive benefit from the plant. Their money is taken from them arbitrarily to enable some of their fellow citizens to get their electricity, gas or water below cost.
This is manifestly unfair, but it is no more unfair than the reverse process, which is more common in England than in this country. There they rob the depreciation and reserve funds of the municipal plants to "relieve the rates"—i. e., decrease the tax levy—or accomplish the same result by raising the price of gas or electricity, thus compelling the users of these commodities to bear more than their share of the city's expenses.

These methods of municipal disorder, contrary though they are in their effect upon the consumer, are alike in that they make it appear that the city is doing more for its citizens than a private company would do. But it is only another case where appearances are deceitful.

WANTED!

All kinds country produce. Will exchange goods or pay cash. Highest market price.

W. P. QUALLS.

Successor to Buck Grocery Co., dealer in staple and fancy groceries, Avenue A, East (Sixth Street).

A Dishonest Dollar.

You cannot hide a dishonest dollar.
You take a dishonest dollar and bury it clear down in the deepest part of earth, it will not stay there. You may roll it on rocks and mountains bounders; you may attempt to put that dishonest dollar down in the center of the earth; it will not stay there. Not it will begin to rock and heave and upturn itself, until it comes to the resurrection of damnation.—Talmage.

Master and Pupil.

A well known Japanese magician, Tencho, who is noted for his skill in mesmerism, was mesmerized by Sadachi, a young member of his company. Sadachi stole 20 yen from his master's purse and absconded.—South China Post.

Skyscrapers.

Modern skyscrapers are compressed cities shot up perpendicular to the earth, and honeycombed by hurrying humanity which humbling little elevator railroads dump in and out of.

THE TRACTION FAKE.

Cleveland Disgusted With Mayor
Johnson's Methods.

Convenience and Safety Are Ignored to Keep Three Cent Fare System From Bankruptcy—Loss of Time and Comfort Far Outweigh the Saving in Pennies.

Semi-municipal ownership of street cars does not seem to be giving the satisfaction that was anticipated. The Municipal Traction company is really the city of Cleveland disguised to evade a state law, and according to the Cleveland papers, it is defying state laws and city ordinances in a way that would bring the Johnsonian into action in ten minutes if the lawbreaker were an ordinary corporation.

Perhaps the worst example of this is the blocking shot the dealers at grade crossings and drawbridges, which are designed automatically to prevent a car running through an open draw or being run down by a train. The most frequent traffic accidents have been due to the absence of such dealers who have now been put out of service in Cleveland.

The law has also been defied by the breaking of the fare and service contracts with suburban towns which were inherited from the Cleveland Electric Railway company, cursed while alive, but now of blessed memory.

The following editorials from two of the principal Cleveland dailies show the trend of local sentiment. Under the caption "Making It Pay," the News says:

"The ancient maxim 'The king can do no wrong' has been translated into the modern phrase 'The municipal traction company may do what it pleases.'"
"What are laws and ordinances for the convenience of citizens or for the benefit of their lives if such legal restraints interfere with the successful demonstration of three cent fare?"

"Safety devices upon drawbridges have been brushed aside. The other day a man with both legs cut off lay for fifteen minutes under a car which carried no jack. Such a device seems to have been scarce upon all the cars since the accident."

"Upon East Fifty-fifth street have appeared the old dinky cars equipped with hand brakes. Even the traction company has scarcely checked enough to post its famous 'This Is Your Property' notice in these antiquated cars."
"The Superior avenue line has been reduced fifteen and the Lorain avenue service ten times."

"So it goes all over the city. Three cent fare, to be sure, unless one needs to transfer. But what service! It may be the saving to the corporation, but it will 'it' pay the city?"

Somewhat more judiciously the Leader deals with these and other shortcomings under the caption "Dear Bought Economies."
"Some of the so called economies which the so called Municipal Traction company is practicing are costly to the public. The saving to the corporation is more than offset by the loss to its patrons."

"In some instances the partial or complete withdrawal of street cars from lines which do not yield sufficient revenue to satisfy Mayor Johnson and his associates in the traction business has damaged property more than enough to balance the saving to the company which promised Cleveland better service in every respect as well as lower fare. On many lines the increased intervals between cars, causing such long waiting by thousands of passengers that if their time is counted as worth only a modest sum by the hour or the day the loss which they undergo is much more than enough to offset the profits of poor service to the corporation which is responsible for it."

"Another traction company saving costly to the people of Cleveland is the change in the rate of fare to the suburbs. It means less health and pleasure for the poor, less comfortable summers for the rich, less satisfaction in life. That sort of economy for the railroad company is far from profitable to the public. The effect of cutting off open cars in warm weather will be similar to the changes which are so adverse to the development of the suburbs and the spreading out of the city into the inviting and wholesome country around Cleveland.
It will be a form of saving which cannot fail to be burdensome to the community."

A Late Awakening.

The chairman of the finance committee of the council of Woodstock, N. B., writes:

"The Woodstock municipal lighting plant was installed in 1882, at a cost of approximately $20,000, and continued to serve the town up to the fall of 1896, when a contract was entered into by the corporation with a private company generating by water power. The municipal plant had got in poor shape and was not giving a satisfactory service, and this, added to the high price of fuel, induced the corporation to accept the offer of the private company, which now has the plant in excellent shape and plant being practically fit for the scrap heap."

London Continues to Lose.

Fifteen of the London boroughs have municipal electric plants, the investment in which is nearly $20,000,000. In 1907 the net profit from these plants without providing for depreciation, was about $15,000. As the depreciation would amount to $200,000, the net loss for the year was approximately $185,- 000.

Thrice-A-Week World

More Alert, More Thorough More Fearless Than Ever.

READ IN EVERY ENGLISH
SPEAKING COUNTRY.

A President of the United States will be elected this year. Who is he and who is the man whom he will beat? Nobody yet knows, but the Thrice-A-Week edition of the New York World will tell you every step and every detail of what promises to be a campaign of the most absorbing interest. It may not tell you what you hope, but it will tell you what is. The Thrice-A-Week World long ago established a character for impartiality and fearlessness in the publication of news, and this it will maintain. If you want the news as it really is subscribe to the Thrice-A-Week edition of the New York World, which comes to you every other day except Sunday, and is, thus practically a daily at the price of a weekly.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the HOPKINSVILLE KENTUCKIAN together for one year for $2.65. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

Mrs. Ermine Crouse of Murray, is visiting the family Mrs. P. M. Owen, near the city.

Circumstances Alter Cases.

Mae (to brother Jack)—How I wish you would throw away that beastly igar. (An hour later, in the parlor)—
"Ray, Mr. De Cloud, do, do smoke.
You know I fairly adore the aroma of good Havana.—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Life's Inevitable Companion.

The Emperor Augustus, when seated at table between Virgil, who was ath-matic, and Horace, who was bloodeyed, said, laughing: "I am between sighs and tears." Alas! who is not seated between these two table companions at the banquet of life?—Fr.
Joseph Roux.

Our Wife Says—

The most soufaced old Billy can crack a smile when he's trying to attract the attention of a pretty girl—Chicago Journal.

Delicious Candy.

The kind your family enjoys.
The kind that is pure and wholesome. The kind that only costs you

35c a box.

We get it fresh every week.
We also have those delicious Caramel Biscuits—those that if you taste one you will want another.

COOK & HIGGINS.

The Best Drinks in the City.

POOR CONCRETE WORK

Is about the worst investment a man can have. Such work is either due to errors in construction, caused by lack of experience, or improper mixing and proportionment of materials.
Every Bit of our material is measured and mixed systematically and our construction methods are the result of over 5 years of experience in railroad and sidewalk work.

To be on the safe side, let us do YOUR WORK.

Meacham Contracting Co.

(INCORPORATED)

Fine Definition of Liberty.
Liberty is the state in which the soul no longer finds any obstacles in the way of its union with good and with its object.—Plato

We Have Your Suit!

The Suit You'll Fancy
and the Suit You'll Need

Your Suit for Dress Occasions, Your Suit for Business, Your Suit for Lounging, Your Suit for Traveling.

Suits of many fabrics, of many colors, of many shapes, of many styles of trimmings,
Also Top Coats, Rain Coats and Fur Coats.

Take a Look at Our $20 and $25 Suits!

Match them if you can! Our highest ambition is to have you satisfied, for then you'll come again.

J.T. WALL & CO.

DOCTOR ADVISED USE OF CUTICURA

After Other Treatment Failed—
Eczema in Raw Spot on Baby Boy's Face Lasted for Months—Cried with Pain when Washed.

ECZEMA WAS CURED AND HAS NEVER REAPPEARED

"Our baby boy broke out with eczema on his face when one month old. One place on the side of his face the size of a nickel was raw like beefsteak for three months, and he would cry out when I bathed the parts that were sore and broken out. I gave him three months treatment from a good doctor, but at the end of that time the child was no better. Then my doctor recommended Cuticura. After using a cake of Cuticura Soap, a third of a box of Cuticura Ointment, and half a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent he was well and his face was as smooth as my baby's. He is now two years and a half old and no eczema has reappeared. I am still using the Cuticura Soap. I think it is the most toilet soap I ever used. I keep my little girl's face and hands cleansed with it too. I am so thankful for what Cuticura has done for us." Mrs. M. L. Harris, R. F. D. 4, Alton, Kan., May 14 and June 12, '07.

SANATIVE

Antiseptic Cleansing is Best Accomplished by Cuticura.

Women, especially mothers, find Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent the purest, sweetest, and most effective remedies for greasy, purifying, and beautifying the skin. To help the hands, for the treatment of inflammatory and ulcerative conditions, as well as for restoring to health, strength, and beauty pale, weak, nervous, prematurely faded, run-down women. Guaranteed absolutely pure under the United States Food and Drug Act. Complete External and Internal Treatment for Eczema, Itch, and other Skin Diseases. Cuticura Soap (25c) to cleanse the skin, Cuticura Ointment (10c) to heal the skin, and Cuticura Resolvent (50c) for the removal of chronic skin diseases. Complete directions for use. Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent are sold by all druggists and grocers. Write for a free booklet, "Cuticura for Skin Diseases."

Personal Gossip

Mrs. Frank Lewis visited her mother, Mrs. Sarah Monroe, at Auburn last week.

Miss Mary Louise Courtney, of Owensboro, is visiting Miss Fannie Lacy.

Rev. S. C. Todd, expected to preach at the Baptist church on Chinese Missions, failed to come.

A big delegation of Clarksville people, headed by H. N. Leech and Ben Sory came over yesterday to hear Gov. Willson.

Capt. Ed McGehee, of Richmond, Va., was here yesterday. Capt. McGehee is in the employ of the C. & O. railroad as Conductor and has been on a short visit to his brother, H. C. McGehee, at Gracey.

Will Celebrate Anniversary.

Capt. R. S. Pool and wife, of Cerulean, will celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage next Saturday, Oct. 10. They were married Oct. 10, 1883.

Billy Cromwell Paralyzed.

William Cromwell, a well-known attorney of Frankfort, was stricken with paralysis Saturday afternoon, and is in a serious condition. Mr. Cromwell is well known all over Kentucky, having been clerk of the Senate for many years.

Scott's Emulsion

of Cod Liver Oil is the means of life and enjoyment of life to thousands: men, women and children.

When appetite fails, it restores it. When food is a burden, it lifts the burden.

When you lose flesh, it brings the plumpness of health.

When work is hard and duty is heavy, it makes life bright.

It is the thin edge of the wedge; the thick end is food. But what is the use of food when you hate it and can't digest it?

Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil is the food that makes you forget your stomach.

Send this advertisement, together with name of paper in which it appears, your address and four cents to cover postage, and we will send you a "Complete Handy Atlas of the World."

BIG CROWD HEARD WILLSON.

(Continued from First Page.)

these soldier boys. I renew my pledge made as a candidate, that I will stand for law and order to the end.

The great law says God helps those who help themselves. The State administration will help all, but it will help best those who help themselves. I do not suppose the General of the night riders is here disguised as a negro woman, as it is said was the case at Princeton. Hopkinsville is all right and while this people help themselves they will get all needed support from the governor."

He denounced as absolutely false and alleged interview in which he was made to use words abusing the farmers. Said he considered the farmers the very backbone of the Commonwealth and any statement to the contrary charged to him was without a word of truth.

"If I were a farmer, I would join the association and would stand by it as long as it was a lawful body, but the minute it became an organized body to whip and shoot and burn, I would get out of it."

"If any man in Kentucky kills a night rider in defense of his home, I will protect him, and I have the power to do it. If the night rider has a mask on, make no further inquiries. I will draw no party lines in prosecuting the night riders. The Republican will have as hard a time as the Democrat." He challenged any one to show him a serious condemnation of night riding by any Democratic speaker and criticized Congressman Stanley, calling upon all friends of law and order to vote for his opponent.

He then changed his address into a discussion of national issues.

Preferred Stock

Dividend No. 1. The board of directors of the Hopkinsville Milling Co., in regular session, declared out of net earnings a dividend at rate of 3 per cent. for six months on the preferred stock, same payable on demand at office of the company.

Oct. 1st, 1908.

C. L. DANIEL, Sec'y and Treas.

To the Farmers.

I am prepared to furnish you Ground Lime Stone—both the meal and flour—at the mill or f. o. b. cars Juliet, Ky. G. H. STOWE, Hopkinsville, Ky., R. F. D. 4, Phone 287 2.

Poultry Printing.

We have a very large and complete line of poultry cuts and are prepared to do any and all kinds of printing for poultry raisers at low prices.

LIKED HOPKINSVILLE.

Editor Geo. W. Kemper Gives His Impression of City.

The following extract is taken from the account of the convention here published in the Christian Helper at Midway, Ky:

Probably the busiest man at the convention was Harry D. Smith, the beloved pastor of the Hopkinsville church, who was kept constantly "on the go" attending to the various wants of delegates and making all feel perfectly at home. He has done a most excellent work for the Hopkinsville church during his long pastorate and no man is held in higher esteem in that city than he.

Bro. Smith was ably assisted in his work as "host" by Bro. W. J. Hudspeth, who for some years has done such successful work as General Evangelist for South Kentucky. To Bro. Hudspeth more than to any other man is due the union perfected at this convention. He has worked for it earnestly for many months.

Everyone rejoiced that he is to be continued as one of the evangelists, under the new organization. To know him is to love him.

Hopkinsville is a beautiful city. Her people are cultured and cordial, and the spirit of old-fashioned Kentucky hospitality reigned supreme in all homes during the convention.

The members of the other churches of the city united in entertaining the large number of delegates and visitors present and did everything in their power to make the

ESQ. JIM BOYD

In Unhappy Plight in Evansville Saturday.

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 3.—Said to be demented over the night rider troubles in Kentucky, James A. Boyd, of Hopkinsville, Ky., was found near this city to-day in a helpless condition. He is now being detained at the police station until relatives can come to get him.

Boyd came here yesterday, well dressed, and registered at one of the leading hotels. He was found to-day several miles up the river from here, lying in the yard of Jack Angel, a prominent farmer. He asked Angel for a drink of water, and when it was given him said, "I want some for my partner over here, too. The night riders have wounded him, and they have burnt my property. We must have help."

NIGHT RIDERS

Come to Whip Farmer, But He Escaped.

Paducah, Ky., Oct. 4.—Twenty night riders called at the home of Clifton Osborn, a farmer, in Lyon county, about 1:30 o'clock Saturday morning supposedly to whip him, but Osborn escaped in his underclothes through a rear window and went to the camp of the soldiers six miles away. The riders fired several shots at him. Soldiers with a bloodhound trailed the riders to where they had left their horses. Osborn says he will sell his farm and leave the State.

HERE AND THERE.

The trial of Rufus Browder, the negro charged with the murder of Jas. Cunningham in Logan county, is in progress at Russellville. A detachment of 20 soldiers is on hand, and no trouble looked for.

Oldham, Osteopaths, 705 S. Clay St., Hopkinsville, Ky.

The Paducah High School football team, coached by Prof. W. A. Evans, started the season by defeating the Metropolis, Ill., team with ease.

They say all whiskey is good whiskey only some is better than others—"Some" means "HARPER," the others are "also-rans."—Call for HARPER at W. R. LONG'S Hopkinsville, Ky.

The cold spell passed without a killing frost.

TEMPERANCE RALLY

With Rev. J. W. West Speaker At Union Service.

Rev. J. W. West, of the Anti-Saloon League, addressed a meeting at the Christian church Sunday night, in the interest of the temperance movement. He stated that 96 of the 119 counties in Kentucky now had no saloons and that the League was working for two bills before the next Legislature, one a county unit law and the other to make it unlawful to ship whiskey into dry territory. A collection was taken up to further the work. All of the ministers of the city were present, except Dr. Jenkins, who is holding a revival meeting on the West side.

RATIONAL CURE FOR ECZEMA

No More Dosing the Stomach—Cure the Skin Through the Skin.

When you have a scratch on your hand you wash it out and cleanse it and then the skin cures itself. You do not take blood medicine to cure a feathered wound.

The best skin specialists today are agreed that the only way to cure the skin is through the skin.

The fact that eczema is a skin disease is evident from statistics which show that nearly all eczema sufferers are perfectly healthy in all other ways except as to their skin. If the eczema patients were really suffering from an inward malady, the entire body and not only the skin would be diseased.

You can prevent immediately the relief of a true skin cure by using oil of wintergreen as compounded in D. D. D. Prescription.

This liquid attacks the disease germs, humbling them while building up the healthy tissue of the skin. We have now handled this meritorious and thoroughly scientific remedy for so long and have seen its reliable result so many times that we freely express our confidence.

For sale by L. L. Elgin.

STILL MISSING.

University Student's Disappearance Not Yet Solved.

The whereabouts of W. E. Smith, the missing student of the State University at Lexington, is still a mystery. The president and university faculty deprecate the action of several newspapers in giving the case such wide publicity. A committee of the faculty publishes a report regarding the case, but throw no light on the boy's disappearance, which was on the night of Sept. 22.

Nuptial Events.

Miss Joy May Carr, sister of Mrs. W. M. Hancock of this city, will be married at Blytheville, Ark., Oct. 29 to Mr. Willard F. Moore, of that place.

Mr. Chas. H. Nash, Jr., and Miss Lizzie Lou Alexander will be married at Middleton, Tenn., Oct. 22, and will reside at Temple, Tex.

Mr. Geo. W. Griffith and Miss Maie E. Eard, of Montgomery county, Tenn., were married Saturday, in this city, by Eld. H. D. Smith.

CHANGE OF BASE.

Rev. McCord Accepts Call in Illinois.

After a pastorate of more than two years at Sardin, Miss. Rev. J. A. McCord, formerly of this county, has resigned to accept a call to the Baptist Church at Fairfield, Ill. Dr. McCord makes the change on account of climatic conditions, the long hot summers and the malaria in Mississippi having proved too much for him.

For Sale at a Bargain.

Scholarship in one of the Best Business Universities of the South. Good for any department. Address this office

EXPLOSION CAUSES FIRE

$50,000 Loss In the Business District of Benton.

Benton, Ky., Oct. 1.—Fire caused a loss of $50,000 this morning. Mrs. T. L. Edelen, secretary of the Model Department Store, lit a lamp which exploded in the store and flames spread to other building. The Model Store was destroyed, the loss being $30,000, with $25,000 insurance. Other losses were: J. W. McKinnie, undertaker, $1,500, insurance $800; Vaughan livery stable, $2,000, insurance $1,000; J. D. Peterson's warehouse, $500; H. B. Inman, restaurant, $1,000; insurance $300. The McGregor Hardware Company was damaged $1,000. The loss is covered by insurance.

DEATH OF MR. RAWLS.

Aged Citizen of Cerulean Passes Away.

Mr. Charles Rawls, an aged and much respected citizen of Cerulean, died Friday. He had been in bad health for some time but was only confined to his bed a short while. The deceased is survived by several children, among the number being F. A. Rawls, who is in the mercantile business at Cerulean. He was about 75 years old.

To those afflicted with kidney and bladder trouble, backache, rheumatism, Pinules for the Kidneys bring relief in the first dose. Hundreds of people today testify to their remarkable healing and tonic properties. 30 days' trial $1.00. They purify the blood. Sold by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.

IN NEW PLACE

Bright Tobacco District of N. Carolina and Virginia Invaded.

Danville, Va., Oct. 4.—Violence from night riders is threatened in Caswell county, North Carolina, which adjoins this county and which is in the heart of the bright tobacco grower's belt. The independent farmers of that section are greatly alarmed over notices which have been tacked on their barns and in conspicuous places, warning them not to sell their tobacco on warehouse floors.

In Nashville Sanitarium.

Mrs. Puss Saunders, formerly of Christian county, but now of Louise, Tenn., underwent an operation in Nashville last Friday. Her condition was improved yesterday. Miss Dora Saunders, of Laytonville, went to Nashville, yesterday morning, with the intention of remaining with her some time.

The October Review of Reviews has three important illustrated articles dealing with the Presidential contest—"Mr. Bryan's Third Campaign," by Joseph Daniels, chairman of Democrat National Committee's press bureau "The Management of the Taft Campaign," by Walter Wellman, and Chairman Frank Harris Hitchcock," by Shell Smith.

SEEDS

Buckbee's "Full of Life" Northern Grown Pedigreed Seeds have a reputation of 30 years of successful seed growing behind them. It pays to plant the best.

Seasonable Specialties—DEANS—Earliest Red Valentine $1.50 Bushel
Edgemoor Extra Early $1.50 Bushel
New Stringless Green Pod $1.75 Bushel
Warfield's Imp. Kidney Wax $1.50 Bushel
Davis New White Wax $1.75 Bushel
Carrie's Best Frost Wax $1.50 Bushel
PEAS—
Extra Early Grafton $1.50 Bushel
New Early Grafton $1.50 Bushel
Hutchinson's Market Garden $1.50 Bushel
Buckbee's Lightning Express $1.50 Bushel
Lettuce, Radish, Tomato and a full line of seeds, plants and bulbs at lowest growing prices. Send for complete catalogue or submit a list of your requirements and will quote prices. Buy direct from the grower—Save Money. Write today. Mention this paper.

H. W. BUCKBEE
2505 Buckbee St., Rockford Seed Farm, Rockford, Ill.

T. J. Hawkins Architect and Supt. of Construction

Special attention given to planning Warehouses, Mills, Business Houses, Churches, Residences and Cottages Also Frame, Brick, Stone and Concrete Construction. Estimates and plans furnished on short notice. Office Sixth Street, Canaler Block, over Buck & Co.'s store, Hopkinsville, Ky. HOME PHONE NO. 124.

WANTED TO BUY Car Load or Less Any Quantity

BUTTER, EGGS, POULTRY, WOOL, FEATHERS, GEN-SENG, BEESWAX, TALLOW,
AND

COW HIDES, HORSE HIDES,
MULE HIDES,
SHEEP HIDES
Don't Fail to See Us for Prices.
Call, Write or Phone

The Haydon Produce Co.

HERBERT L. HAYDON, Mgr.
Cumb. Phone 28-31; Home 1322.
East 9th St. Near L. & N Depot

SURVEYING.

SEVEN YEARS' EXPERIENCE.
ACCURACY GUARANTEED.
Meacham Contracting Co.
(INCORPORATED)

DR. EDWARDS, SPECIALTY

Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.
Free Test Made for Glasses
Up Stairs—Phoenix Building, Main St.

Buy a Globe Hot Blast

And Spend A COMFORTABLE Winter.

GLOBE will pay for itself in two winters by its economical use of fuel; slack, nut or any kind of coal does equally as well. Burns the black smoke and gases. Warms the floor first. These statements are not guess work but facts that have been proven by actual use of the stove. The GLOBE HOT BLAST is sold on a guarantee of satisfaction.

THE COMPLETE HOUSEFURNISHERS, Keach Furniture Company.

MAKE REQUEST

Petition the Council to Take Charge of Their City Schools.

The city council met Friday night in regular session with all of the members present. The budget of accounts for September was allowed aggregating $461.35. The City Light Co.'s bill for September was paid, amounting to $530.13. Also a bill of $5 due Higgins & Son.

A request for the correction of the assessment of the Bank of Hopkinsville for 1908 was referred to the Finance committee.

A committee of colored citizens presented to the council a petition asking that the colored schools of the city be taken under the control of the trustees of the city public schools. It was stated that the colored schools of the city were not provided for in the division of the common schools of the county into educational districts and were therefore left without trustees. The schools are supported by the State per capita of $3.75 and an annual donation of $1,500 from the white school fund. The matter was referred to a committee composed of Councilmen Galbreath, Davis and Higgins, who will report to the council the first meeting in November. The new law provides that graded school systems cannot be interfered with, and the white public schools, if they consent to look after the colored schools, will be in no wise interfered with. Only white voters can vote for trustees and the board would have no power to tax the property of colored people, who do not pay a school tax. The former trustees of the colored schools, who do not know just what their present status is, are Peter Postell, Alex Brent and George Leavelle.

The Cemetery committee was given authority to make some needed repairs about the sexton's house, paint the fences, etc.

The Street committee was empowered to place the new street names on the principal street corners.

The city attorney was directed to lodge a complaint with the Railroad Commission in regard to the failure of the L. & N. and L. C. railroads to provide proper platforms and depot surroundings in the city. Both roads have platforms made of crushed stone and the city has been unable to get concrete or brick pavements laid.

The city attorney was also instructed to enforce repairs ordered at the Central avenue crossing of the L. & N. railroad.

The usual reports of the city engineer, work house keeper and treasurer were submitted. The reports of the chief of police and city judge will be filed at the next meeting.

Councilman Davis, of the Sewer committee, reported that there was no further need of the services of the committee in bringing about a settlement of the sewer question, as the owners of the private sewers had made an agreement by which their sewerage would be turned into the lines of the Hopkinsville Sewerage Co.

COUNTY COMMITTEE

Of Tobacco Association Met Saturday in Executive Session.

The new committee of the Planters Association met Saturday and discussed many business matters in executive session. One important transaction was the endorsement of W. W. Radford, former chairman, for general inspector. The committee deferred action on some matters, awaiting for the Executive committee which met at Guthrie yesterday to outline the policy to be pursued.

Meet Next In Rome.

The International Tuberculosis Congress in Washington went on record yesterday morning in opposition to Dr. Robert Koch's theory on bovine tuberculosis. President Roosevelt was present at the afternoon session and delivered an address. The formal announcement was made that the next tuberculosis congress would be held in Rome.

SALES PICK UP.

Nearly 1200 Hogsheds Sold Since Last Report.

The report of association sales up to Oct. 1, shows a sharp increase over the previous report. Here are the week's sales and the totals in the ten markets:

MARKET.	HHS.	TOTAL
Springfield	114	8093
Clarksville	207	7699
Paducah	111	4791
Guthrie	81	3483
Hopkinsville	112	3422
Murray	167	2289
Princeton	82	1266
Russellville	62	879
Mayfield	206	1906
Cadiz	50	863
Total	1192	34585

JNO. D. SCALES, Auditor.

The Hopkinsville market continues to receive old tobacco, three hogsheds coming in late in September. Nearly 50 per cent of the old crop received here is still on hand, about 3,000 hogsheds, mostly lugs and common leaf. Much of it has been regraded and the high prices of the early part of the season marked down. Assuming that these hogsheds weigh 1500 pounds and that the tobacco is worth 9 cents as an average, the holdings here are worth $405,000. There are supposed to be about 27,000 hogsheds of old tobacco in all of the district, representing by the same method of calculation $3645,000.

The new crop is estimated at 110,000 hogsheds, about 100,000 of it in the association, worth at a low estimate $13,500,000. If these crops, valued at more than $17,000,000, can be turned into money, the Black Patch will blossom like a rose.

COMING EVENTS

That Arouse Public Interest Before Them.

- Oct. 6.—Regular fall registration at all precincts in Hopkinsville only.
- Oct. 8.—Meeting of the Athenaeum at Hotel Latham.
- Oct. 16.—Bible Conference at Baptist church.
- Oct. 15.—Phinney's U.S. Band, under auspices of W. O. W. lodge at tabernacle.

TWO CROPS

Of Tobacco Destroyed by Fire Near Laytonville.

Ulysses Goode, a farmer living near Laytonville, lost his tobacco barn by fire early Sunday morning. The building contained his crop, four acres, and three or four acres belonging to Clyde Phillips, a neighbor. Mr. Goode had been curing the weed Saturday and about midnight pulled out all the fire but one small chunk and it is supposed that the flames originated from this. The loss is about $700. There was no insurance.

Lost Barn of Tobacco.

David Stewart's tobacco barn, four miles north of Gracey, burned one day last week. A colored man was firing the tobacco, which had become very dry, and which was ignited by sparks. The loss was total and amounted to several hundred dollars.

Value of Insurance.

Fires originate in unexpected places and from unknown causes. Doubtless some one who reads this article will sustain the next loss. Are YOU insured and have you the best insurance your money can buy? The Giant Insurance Agency (Incorporated), settles their losses promptly and equitably and guarantees to sell their policies at as low rate as any company doing business. Office in First National Bank building. Both 'phones.

Announcement.

We are authorized to announce J. M. Renshaw as a candidate for the office of sheriff of Christian county, Kentucky, on the Republican ticket. Election November 3, 1908.

For bargains in real estate call on E. ELLIS.

ON TO VICTORY

The Theme of Two Orators. At Bryan and Kern Club.

Two enthusiastic speeches were made at the Bryan and Kern club Friday night, by John C. Duffy and W. R. Howell.

President J. T. Hanberry presided and a number of new names were admitted and paid the 50-cent fee.

Both speakers pitched into the Republicans at a lively rate and predicted a sweeping Democratic victory in November.

The club will meet again next Friday night.

WINFREE CASE

Called Saturday and Jury Is Being Made Up.

The case of W. P. Winfree, Jr., charged with the murder of Police man C. E. Ford, Dec. 10, 1907, which resulted in a mistrial last term, was entered into Saturday and seven jurors accepted from the regular panel. Fifty names were then drawn from the wheel and court adjourned until Monday. The jury had not been completed when we went to press.

PILGRIM DESCENDANT

Something About Bandmaster Phinney.

Bandmaster Frederick Phinney is the youngest of a large family, all of whom are musicians. He was born in 1849 at Plymouth, Mass., and is a lineal descendant of Captain Miles Standish, the leader of the Pilgrims who landed on Plymouth in 1620. The child whose cradle was rocked there must have solid and sterling qualities. Mr. Phinney has them. At an early age he showed great talent as a musician, and he subsequently studied and graduated at the Boston Conservatory of Music.

In 1876 he had the honor of assisting the lamented P. S. Gilmore in the great musical jubilee given in Boston.

Mr. Phinney organized the Iowa State Band. This was done under a special act of legislature of Iowa—the only state that ever had an official band—and the Governor of the State was ex-officio president of the band.

Iowa sent Mr. Phinney and his band to the Columbian Exposition at Chicago. They were there at the opening and at the close, and it was the only band that remained during the entire six months of the World's Fair.

Since that time Phinney and his band have played in nearly every city in the United States and Canada.

Will be at the Tabernacle Oct. 15.

GOOD BUSINESS

In Tobacco Circles, But Sales Smaller.

While sales of tobacco on the local market last week were not quite as large as those of the week before, the general run of the business was very good.

The Association reports the sale of 73 hogsheds. The sales were made up of lugs and low leaf, all other grades having been about exhausted, and prices were fully up to the schedule of the organization. The Society of Equity sold some tobacco but the bulk of their stock has been disposed of and they are ready for the new crop.

VETERANS

Elect State Officers at the Annual Meeting.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 3.—Officers for the ensuing year were elected today by the State Veterans of the Confederacy. P. P. Johnson, of Lexington; Colonel James Rogers, of Bourbon county, and Captain W. J. Stone, of Lyon county, were elected brigade commanders, and Colonel Bennett H. Young, of this city, was elected brigade division commander for the state.

There are 94 divorce cases on the Hart's county docket.

Snuggle Up To Us

If you want the best shoe value in the city our lines are all complete and are right in price, style and quality.

Every shoe sold under our own Guarantee.

Warfield & West Shoe Co.,

(INCORPORATED.)

THE EXCLUSIVE SHOE STORE.

Fall Announcement.

HAVING moved our office into our new building on the corner of 11th and Main streets. We have converted the entire building formerly used for offices into one mammoth store room, where we are prepared to show you the latest and most up-to-date line of Stoves and Ranges, House furnishings and Wall Paper. Also the largest and most complete line of china, embracing some of the latest and most artistic patterns in Haviland dinner ware and Austrian china and several of the leading patterns of England. You will also find our Jewelry Department most complete. Having added a large stock of Watches, Clocks, Diamonds, Cut Glass and Silver Ware.

We have secured the service of Mr. R. N. Holdsworth, a Practical Jeweler of nine years experience in this department and are prepared to do all kind of watch work repairing and engraving. Your patronage solicited and satisfaction guaranteed.

Come and See Us.

Yours for business.

Forbes M'f'g Co.

Incorporated.

Hopkinsville, Ky.

Pineules

For the Kidneys, Bladder and Rheumatism. RELIEVES

30 days' treatment for $1.00. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded

BACK-ACHE

For Sale by Anderson-Fowler Drug Co., Incorporated.